BENCHMARKING

BEYOND YOUR IT EXPENDITURE

The business benefits of ICT Services are indissolubly associated to operational expenses, as specific costs will always raise questions regarding the business benefit levels.

The SITCONS benchmarking assessment is much more than a cost optimization exercise. It can help you to align your IT service delivery model to a business outcome-oriented services model. We can help you to assess your ITC service and external service provider performance and the price versus the market.

The SITCONS benchmarking assesses the ICT service delivery model and the associated costs to objectively develop best practices to support the continual organizational and services improvements at the optimum expenditure.
